BOOSTING EMPLOYMENT ACROSS SECTORS

V. Mohan Rao

The government has taken unprecedented steps to address the problems faced by the people, particularly, the migrant labourers who were subject to untold miseries due to Corona Virus (COVID-19) pandemic with some of them sacrificing their lives in the run up to their employment. The Labour Ministry proposed to develop National Database of the Unorganized Workers and migrant workers seeded with their Aadhaar cards.

The global spread of Corona Virus (COVID-19) followed by lockdowns has affected economies across the globe including India. COVID-19 has resulted in large number of migrant workers going back to their native places. The government has advocated for Aatmanirbhar Bharat, which is based on Economy, Infrastructure, System, Vibrant Demography and Demand to create jobs for the youth.

National Commission for Migrant Labour: NITI Aayog has constituted a sub-group to prepare a tangible National Action Plan to address issues related to migrant workers in the country. The Centre had enacted the Inter-state Migrant Workmen (Regulation of Employment and Conditions of Service) Act, 1979. This Act has now been subsumed in the Occupational Safety, Health and Working Conditions Code, 2020. It provides for decent working conditions, minimum wages, grievances redressal mechanisms, protection from abuse and exploitation, enhancement of the skills and social security to all category of organised and unorganised workers including Migrant workers.

Pradhan Mantri Garib Kalyan Rojgar Abhiyan: The Centre has launched the Garib Kalyan Rojgar Abhiyaan of 125 days on 20th of June, 2020 with a resource envelop of 50,000 crore rupees to boost employment and livelihood opportunities for returnee migrant workers and similarly affected citizens in rural area, in the wake of COVID-19 pandemic. The objectives of the Abhiyan were to provide immediate employment and livelihood opportunities to the distressed, to saturate the villages with public infrastructure and creation of livelihood assets to boost the income generation activities and enhance long term livelihood opportunities in some of the states. A total of 50.78 crore Person days employment has been generated during the Abhiyan with an expenditure of 39,293 crore rupees.

Aatmanirbhar Bharat Rozgar Yojana (ABRY) The Scheme has been launched with effect from 1st of October 2020 to incentivize creation of new employment along with social security benefits and restoration of loss of employment during COVID-19 pandemic.

Under the scheme; an employee drawing monthly wage of less than 15,000 rupees who was not working in any establishment registered with the Employees' Provident Fund Organization (EPFO) before 1st of October, 2020 and did not have a Universal Account Number or EPF Member account number prior to 1st of October 2020, is eligible for the benefit.

Further the scheme reduces the financial burden of the employers of various sectors/industries including

PREPARING FOR CIVIL SERVICES INTERVIEW

Part-II

S B Singh

When it comes to preparing for Civil Services (CS) personality test, popularly known as CS interview, the common question in the minds of aspirants is : how to prepare for it? Knowing little about the way it is conducted, the composition of the board, method of assessment of performance, allocation of marks and probable areas on which questions shall be raised, it is inevitable that a candidate who is going to present himself before the board develops anxiety, fear and mental blocks which may affect his performance adversely. Getting to know about the vital aspects of preparation is , thus, an imperative need.

How the interview session is conducted: In its notification, UPSC clearly mentions both the purpose and manner of the interview. It is quite instructive to read UPSC guidelines in its published notification.

I. UPSC, in its notification, states that " a candidate will be asked questions of general interest. The object of the interview/ personality test is to assess the personal suitability of the candidate for a career in public service by a board of competent, unbiased observers."

II. "The technique of the interview/ personality test is not a strict cross-examination but of a natural, though directed and purposive conversation which is intended to reveal the mental qualities of the candidate."

III. "The interview/ personality test is not intended to be a test either of specialised or general knowledge of the candidate which has already been tested through their written papers. Candidates are expected to have taken an intelligent interest not only in their special subjects of academic study but also in the events that are happening around them both within and outside their own state or country as well as on modern currents of thought and in new discoveries which should rouse the curiosity of well educated youth."

A close reading of the above instructions issued by UPSC removes all doubts and apprehensions about the interview. The major derivations from UPSC instructions are:

1. The interview seeks to assess whether a candidate is suitable for a career in public service. His traits of leadership, decision making capacity, social cohesion, balanced judgement, moral and intellectual integrity will greatly determine his suitability for public service.
2. The board, consisting of five members, is a competent and unbiased group of experienced experts which will be solely guided by objective criteria of a candidate's merit without any bias of any kind. Everyone is treated as equal before the board irrespective of his social, economic , academic background.

3. The keyword used by UPSC is "purposive conversation" during the interview session. By engaging you in a conversation, the board will encourage you to reveal your mental qualities such as mental alertness, critical powers of assimilation, clear and logical exposition, balance of judgement, variety and depth of interest, ability for social cohesion and leadership, intellectual and moral integrity.
4. Finally, UPSC notification makes it amply clear that current happenings in the state to which a candidate belongs, national and international happenings, current developments in health, trade, science and technology etc will be taken up during the conversation. Quite naturally, current affairs constitute a good part of the interview.

How the interview begins: When you enter the board, you will find yourself standing before five senior, experienced members sitting opposite you.

Of these, one will be chairman of the board, who happens to be one of the members of UPSC. Quite often, the chairman is a retired bureaucrat from IAS, IPS , IFS or some central service. Of the remaining four, two members happen to be from bureaucracy while two are domain experts. These four members come on invitation by UPSC to be a part of the board. Once you are asked to take your chair, the chairman will engage you in a short conversation for five to seven minutes mostly raising questions relating to your bio data, known as DAF or Detailed Application Form. Then, he will direct another member to put his questions before you. He may also raise some questions on certain aspects of information furnished by you in your DAF. Then he will ask questions relating to economics, governance, international issues etc. This trend will continue during the remaining part of the interview . In other words, different questions on economy, health, governance, etc will be posed by all members. Moreover, certain well known questions regarding your choice for civil services as a career, hypothetical questions like how you will act in a given situation, how will you tackle corona in your district if you are the district collector, are bound to be raised. During this kind of conversation, there will be situations where the member/ members will disagree with you on your position, explanation. You must remember, it is part of the interview process and disagreement is designed to test your balanced responses.

How your performance is assessed? After you leave the interview room, the chairman will give his comments on your performance to other members. The other members will also submit their assessment of your performance. Keeping in mind how they have been allocating marks to previous candidates, they will arrive at a certain allocation of marks to you. Rather than judging your performance on various specific yardsticks, they will judge you on the basis of your overall personality projection. A good performance is one in which you are able to convince the board with your crisp, precise answers and impress them with your personality traits. A bad performance is one where you appear unsure about your stand on an issue, or contradict yourself, or lack basic information expected of you. An average performance is one where in you are found to be a person of medium calibre lacking outstanding qualities.

Probable areas of questions: A proper understanding of the kind of questions being asked to majority of candidates in the Directions for the following 3 (three) items :

Read the following two passages and answer the items that follow. Your answers to these items should be based on the passages only.

Passage-1

The quest for cheap and plentiful meat has resulted in factory farms where more and more animals are squeezed into smaller lots in cruel and shocking conditions. Such practices have resulted in many of the world's health pandemics such as the avian flu. Worldwide, livestock are increasingly raised in cruel, cramped conditions, where animals spend their short lives under artificial light, pumped full of antibiotics and growth hormones, until the day they are slaughtered. Meat production is water-intensive. 15000 litres of water is needed for every kilogram of meat compared with 3400 litres for rice, 3300 litres for eggs and 255 litres for a kilogram of potatoes.

Q78. What is the most rational and crucial message given by the passage?

(a) Mass production of meat through industrial farming is cheap and is suitable for providing protein nutrition to poor countries.
(b) Meat-producing industry violates the laws against cruelty to animals.
(c) Mass production of meat through industrial farming is undesirable and should be stopped immediately.
(d) Environmental cost of meat production is unsustainable when it is produced through industrial farming.

Passage-2

A male tiger was removed from Pench Tiger Reserve and was relocated in Panna National Park. Later, this tiger trekked toward his home 250 miles away. The trek of this solitary tiger highlights a crisis. Many wildlife reserves exist as islands of fragile habitat in a vast sea of humanity, yet tigers can range over a hundred miles, seeking prey, mates and territory. Nearly a third of India's tigers live outside tiger reserves, a situation that is dangerous for both human and animal. Prey and tigers can only disperse if there are recognized corridors of land between protected areas to allow unmolested passage.

Q79. Which of the following is the most rational and crucial message given by the passage?

(a) The conflict between man and wildlife cannot be resolved, no matter what efforts we make.
(b) Safe wildlife corridors between protected areas is an essential aspect of conservation efforts.
(c) India needs to declare more protected areas and set up more tiger reserves.
(d) India's National Parks and Tiger Reserves need to be professionally managed.

Q80. With reference to the above passage, the following assumptions have been made :

1. The strategy of conservation of wildlife by relocating them from one protected area to another is not often successful.
2. India does not have suitable legislation to save the tigers, and its conservation efforts have failed which forced the tigers to live outside protected areas.

Which of the above assumptions is/are valid?

(a) 1 only (b) 2 only
(c) Both 1 and 2 (d) Neither 1 nor 2

past several years makes it easier to anticipate what questions you are likely to be asked in your interview. Of course not all the areas or questions can be predicted as there will always be some unpredictable questions. To be realistic, you should prepare for predictable questions and not the unpredictable ones. In any case, as far as unpredictable questions are concerned, even if you are not able to answer some of them, its not going to impact your interview so long as you are strong enough in the predictable part of the questions. Some of the probable questions will be on the following topics.

1. DAF: You are required to furnish in your DAF a variety of details regarding your parental, educational background, your job description if any, your hobbies and extracurricular activities, choice of services and preference for cadre. Thus, your DAF attracts the members most and they form an opinion about you through your DAF, raise questions on the basis of information furnished by you in it. Be very careful to furnish those information with accuracy and honesty. Never commit yourself to anything in DAF which is difficult to defend or justify. Since you have on your provided those information, you are supposed to defend them. Consult some knowledgeable persons to formulate your answers on DAF.

2. Your state: Questions on your state relating to its economy, law and order, issues of governance, culture, history etc are bound to crop up. A quick brush up on these issues from authentic sources is highly desirable. For example, if you belong to Bihar, its history in terms of big empires like Mauryan empire, birth of Buddhism, Jainism may be asked. Bihar's backwardness, caste ridden politics, bad governance will be taken up by the board members during the conversation and your views will be elicited on the same. Recent issues like impact of prohibition, recently passed Bihar Police Act will surely be asked. Taking a cue from this example, you should prepare for your respective states.

3. National issues: This will be an important part of the interview conversation. Covid related health issues, governance challenges posed by covid, measures being taken to revive the economy, farm bills and issue of protests, downgrading of Indian democracy by international watchdogs, rise in naxal violence, and a host of other recent issues will be on the plate.

4. International issues: A lot has happened on the international horizon in the last several months. China related issues, US elections, JCPAO and Iran, cyber attacks by China and Israel, Abraham accords, vaccine diplomacy, role of WHO during pandemic, Brexit and it's implications for UK, EU and India, Indian foreign policy and it's relationship with neighbours, especially recent disengagement on LAC between India and China, ceasefire on LOC between India and Pakistan, trade issues with Pakistan, Indo- Nepal issues, 50 years of Bangladesh independence, devolution of powers in Srilanka etc are going to be some of the areas on which questions will be raised. One should list out several more such issues and formulate different questions/answers on these issues.

5. Controversial questions: Candidates always wonder as to what stand to take on controversial issues. For example, how to answer questions on farm laws which are so controversial, or, what stand to take on the reservation politics. On such issues, a rebellious, extreme type of stand should be avoided. Middle path should be chosen by adopting moderate opinions. You may disagree with government stand on an issue but never sound politically opposed or motivated because you are supposed to be neutral and unbiased as a civil servant. The key here is to make a list of controversial issues, frame probable questions and articulate a stand beforehand so that you don't have to improvise it during interview.

While answering questions on the above issues, you must sound authentic, and well informed. You must appear to be in possession of a critical, analytical mind with keen interest on issues of public importance. Even if you don't have in-depth knowledge of the subject, its fundamentals should be clear to you.

6. Your optional paper: The board will get to know about your optional paper from your DAF. They may or may not test you on your optional paper but you must anticipate a few questions and prepare their answers. Usually, the questions on the optional paper are not specialised but of a general nature. They may want to know why you have opted for it, its application in administration, current developments in the subject, if any.

Finally, just preparing on the expected areas is not the complete preparation for the interview. Its about projection of your true, authentic and real personality. Therefore, try to reveal the real attributes of a good personality during the interview session. Remember, interview session is not an extraordinary event .There will be no extraordinary expectations from you by the board members. It is going to be just a normal dialogue between you and the members in a comfortable atmosphere. So, no need to act before the board as someone which you are not. Present your normal self rather than trying to impress the board by over projection of your personality.

VIRTUAL BOOK FAIR : PROMOTING READING HABITS

The fascinating world of books was in sharp focus recently with the online edition of New Delhi World Book Fair 2021. The fair is organized every year by the National Book Trust.

Employment News caught up with Prof Govind Prasad Sharma, Chairman, National Book Trust. The Interviewer is S. Rangabashiam, a New Delhi based News Anchor with All India Radio.

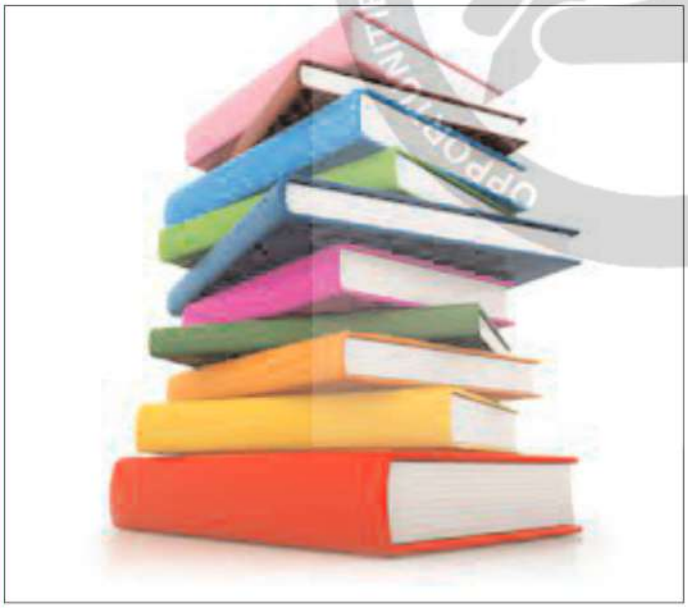

Q1) Tell us about the challenges of organising a virtual book fair in these times of the Corona pandemic.

No event such as the scale of the New Delhi World Book Fair can be organised sans challenges. Yet, with the right motivation, all challenges can be overcome. Keeping in mind the pandemic-induced restrictions, the Fair was organised on a virtual platform this year. We had the support from the best IT and virtual exhibition platform teams, and we work with them to make the visit of the exhibitors and the visitors a smooth ride.

I would like to add that this was India's first Virtual Edition of a book fair at this scale. The virtual platform made it possible for people from across the globe to connect with us virtually, which in a physical fair, at times, proves to be a challenge because of travel, logistics, visa, other concurrent physical events etc. In addition this fair with its theme of NEP-2020 was the first 4-day virtual event based around NEP-2020. More than 30 programs, including webinars, panel discussions, book launches, interactive sessions, international dialogues were organized to discuss the various aspects pertaining to the new education policy.

Q2) How easy was it for book lovers to flip through and buy books online?

It was a 3D platform having a complete 360 degree experience. We gave it the feel of a real fair, with the ease of browsing and buying books, e-visiting stalls, e-meeting exhibitors, along with the regular NDWBF literary events, activities of children, Theme Pavilion, etc. The visitors were able to view the books on display, as well as have access to exhibitors' catalogues. They were able to buy books of their choice at the click of a button.

Q3) Do you think book reading habit has taken a beating with the advent of social media and internet? How is NBT working towards this challenge?

Although the technological revolution, the widespread use of smartphones and tablets and kindle, has had an impact on reading, yet the printed version is still sought by readers - whether it is the newspapers, the magazines or the good old books. In all our book fairs, especially the annual New Delhi World Book Fair, the footfall of book lovers is rising year per year. Social media and internet has in fact aided the publishing industry. Books have become so easily accessible that a reader has to just go to the online store and purchase a book that get delivered within a day or so. The internet actually facilitates further discussions on books by connecting like-minded people from different corners of the world.

Q4) Despite the availability of e-books, the pleasure of holding a physical book in the hand is priceless. Do you plan to encash this psychological behaviour and habit?

The joy a reader gets from reading a physical book cannot be received from any other format. At the same time, it would be unwise to also ignore the increasing trend of e-books, audio books, etc. as long as people need knowledge and need stories, books in any format, will always be in demand.

Q5) Catch them young is the buzz phrase. Does NBT have a strategy to target school and college going readers?

As announced by the Hon'ble Prime Minister on 31 January, 2021 in Mann ki Baat, NBT under the guidance of the Ministry of Education is soon going to launch a mentorship scheme for young writers. The programme will have select young writers from 22 Indian languages from all over India who will be mentored to write about the rich history and traditions of the nation.

Q6) For a section of the society, buying books could be a luxury. How do you plan to make books affordable to a vast majority?

National Book Trust, India since its inception in1957, has always stood by its mandate of providing affordable and accessible literature to each and every reader of the country who is in want of a book. Our 4 regional offices, numerous bookshops and Mobile Exhibition Vans help in providing all our titles to the readers from all parts of the country.

Q7) A lot of good literature is available in regional languages. Do you plan to make it available to English and Hindi readers as well?

NBT is the only organization in the country that publishes in over 51 Indian languages and in English. We also publish books and reading material in Tribal languages, Dialects as well as in Braille. We have a dedicated series, the Aadan Pradan series, which presents well-known literary works of a particular language to people of other Indian languages. NBT believes in the vision of 'Ek Bharat Shreshtha Bharat' and through our many translated works, we aim to strengthen the unity and integrity of India by facilitating the change of knowledge, culture, traditions and practices of different States and UTs.

Q8) Could NBT make available world literature in Indian languages and at affordable prices?

We already have various series which provide translations of world literature in Indian languages as well as English. For instance, under our World Literature series, we publish anthologies of contemporary writings from Asian, African and Latin American countries. Our Asian/Pacific Co-publication Programme is a novel attempt under the aegis of UNESCO, at developing books for Asian children by Asian authors, these books are steps to bridging minds and creating a common heritage for this vast continent and are the very best of Asia today.

Apart from Indian languages, NBT has published books in all the six official UN languages viz. Arabic, Chinese, English, French, Russian and Spanish.

Q9) Would you like to give any message to our readers?

These have been unprecedented and trying times for everyone due to the curtailment on movement and other forms of entertainment. I would just like to advise everybody, especially our young readers, to take advantage of the situation and direct your energies towards activities that enhance your quality of life. Find comfort in books and rediscover your taste for reading. Parents should encourage their children to pick up books in their spare time and lead them by example.
